Travis Manus won a 2002 Pontiac Bonneville donated by Wyoming Trucks and Cars from a drawing he entered at Bridger Coal during their United Way of Southwest Wyoming workplace campaign.

Wyoming Trucks and Cars donated the car to be used as a raffle prize to any Bridger Coal Company or Western Energy Workers 1978 employee who donated at the Landmark Society level of $500 or more.

Pam Christiansen with Western Energy Workers 1978 approached Wyoming Trucks and Cars because of their involvement with the community. Christiansen said she called Joshua Coursey of Wyoming Trucks and Cars and asked if it would be possible for the dealership to donate a car for their campaign. According to Christiansen, Coursey took the idea to their board, and Martin Goicoechea, the owner of Wyoming Trucks and Cars, said it would be a great idea.

“This is such a wonderful thing and we couldn’t thank Wyoming Trucks and Cars enough for their donation,” said Christiansen.
